Odia all movie song 2019

Keep up with the latest daily buzz with the BuzzFeed Daily newsletter! Who leads the world? How about the attack on 50 Ft. Woman-style Beyoncé? The singer/female active wear designer/world dominator is just one of many music artists to have their songs turned into grindhouse movie posters. MusiXploitation is a poster series of films that exist only in the hearts of rabid fans. In the late-'90s, Master P would release full-length narrative films with the same titles as his albums, which were a kind of fictional precursor to Lemonade with some seriously fraught dialogue. This new series is a glimpse at the world where this practice caught on with the entire music industry. Created by Paris-based art director David Redon, the series features blaxploitation-style posters for songs and albums by Amy Winehouse, 2Pac, and Jay-Z. (Previously, Redon was mashed up musicians with vintage ads.) Some are thematically expedient, such as Frank Ocean's galaxies, spooky pyramids, and others no doubt make their namesakes so very upset, such as the miseducation of Lauryn Hill transformed into a bikini bank heist caper. Like the recent Quentin Tarantino book cover featured on Co.Create, some of the entries have tarnished the almost comically bad Photoshop. Those who hit the mark, though, like Tyler Creator's horror-core Yonkers, hit it hard. Or look at more posters on the above slides. [via Fubiz] [via Fubiz] Skip navigation! Lovebirds is a gift that insecure and Silicon Valley fans and action comedy lovers will definitely love. It was supposed to be released in cinemas, but fortunately Netflix scooped up the theater's less Lovebirds. The streaming platform's latest version brings Issa Rae and Kumail Nanjiani together as an onscreen couple (that you never knew you needed before) and adds a funny, high-stakes twist and killer soundtrack. Jibran and Leilani, who have been dating for four years, headed to a friend's house for a dinner party before he accidentally hits the cyclist with his car. The couple over the next 24 hours is filled with murder, wrestling, and a very frightening horse. You question their hilariously awful decisions and root their relationship during a crazy trip. The lovebirds soundtrack is a lot of romantic jam and pump up anthems to accompany this ordinary couple (and audience) on their dangerous adventure. The standout song is Katy Perry's earworm Fireworks, which is so catchy it requires a sing-a-long of Jibran and Leilani in the midst of all their chaos. (Seriously, who can resist belting this song when it happens?) This soundtrack is as unexpected as the plot of The Lovebirds. Image: Walt Disney Animation Studios; Walt Disney Pictures One of the many reasons why people love Disney is their catchy tunes, which often have a message, and now, we all know that Disney goes beyond any and every company when it comes to their movie songs. These songs often top charts, and both adults and children find themselves singing catchy melodies. They enlist the help of award-winning producers, writers and celebrities to create music that people will be listening to for years after the film was released. Many of their songs have received critical acclaim, and many have won awards at both the Golden Globes and Academy Awards. Some of these hits include How Far I Go, Let It Go, The Whole New World, Colors of the Wind, Reflections, Circle of Life and Part of Your World.
